

Editorial Note for Journal of Clinical Epigenetics

Masahiko Tanabe

Department of Breast Surgical Oncology, Kyoundo Hospital, Tokyo, Japan

The Journal of Clinical Epigenetics was inaugurated in 2015 and has continued publishing successfully with Volume 6 in 2020. Since the journal was established, JCE has published in excess of 100 topical and interesting theoretical and Empirical Papers has been published with broad scope, encompassing all the areas of Genetics, Aging, improvement, engraving and conceptive epigenetics, allergy, immunology, pathogens and irritation, cancer epigenetics and diagnostics, cardiovascular epigenetics, endocrinology and metabolic illness, epigenetic treatment and clinical trials, innovative epigenetics treatments, neurology and psychiatry, nutritional and ecological epigenetics.

Sometimes reaching our biggest goals takes more time, patience, and grit than we expect, hence the journal took a major step involving social media and making a varied platforms to our researchers to get intouch with us and Google Analytics has revealed an amazing statistics regarding the popularity of this journal. All through Feb 2015- Nov 2019 there were 5,111 page views. The total number of returning visitors were 4,932. Moreover, globally 46,870+ new users have accessed the journal website for information on the journal and the published articles. More than 75,000+ Visitors visiting the journal site to read the published articles or submit their research outcomes Highest number of Visitors reporting both from the developed and developing nations Majority of the visitors have come from USA (27.16%), India (22.79%), Italy (4.37%), Sweden (4.37%), Spain (3.52%), and Australia (2.64%) Canada (2.64%), UK (2.64%), Turkey (2.64%) The Journal received tremendous attention from the researchers in terms of visits from USA, UK, India, Japan, Korea, China, etc.

The objective of JCE is to publish high-quality and original research papers alongside relevant and insightful reviews. As such, the journal aspires to be vibrant, engaging and accessible, and at the same time integrative and challenging, Needless to say, any papers that you wish to submit, either individually or collaboratively, are much appreciated and will make a substantial contribution to the early development and success of the journal.

Iam extremely grateful to the group of editors including Ihtisham Bukhari (Editor in Chief), Pengcheng Liu, Robert A Rollins, Srijita Dhar, Sudeep Gautam, James CS Chim, Yajun Wang, for bestowing us with their consistent efforts and our reviewer panel for their meticulous work and helping the journal reach international Standards.

The Editor-in-Chief and editorial staff of JCE look forward to working with potential authors of review papers, for which the editorial process would be handled efficiently and in a timely manner. I would also extend my gladness by thanking the advisory and the editorial board, the office bearers and staff at Imed Pub secretariat for their support in bringing out yet another volume of JCE and look forward to their unrelenting support to bring out the Volume 6 in scheduled time.